THE CITY.

Blaine and Logan club meets to night at the Town Hall.

The Steamer Flora asks $150 to take M. E. Sunday school to Cross Village on an excursion.

The St. Ignace band, we understand, gives an excursion from St. Ignace to Cheboygan next Saturday.

Mrs. Lura Kelsey, of Bay City, who has been visiting Mrs. Dan P. McMullen, left for home this morning.

Pools for Saturday's races will be sold at the Arcade reading room Friday evening, also on the grounds Saturday afternoon.

The general opinion in Cheboygan is that the St. Ignace base ball club is not very anxious to meet the Diamond club of Cheboygan, and contest a game.

The Saginaw valley on her trip Saturday had a large party of excursionists from Bay City. Many of them embraced the opportunity of her brief stay to take in the attractions of Cheboygan.

The line repairer came up from Grayling and repaired damage done to the line by the untimely efforts to get up that Cleveland and Hendricks pole in front of Zorn's saloon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Scott, of Pontiac, father and mother of Mr. C. G. Scott, clerk of the Mullet Lake House, arrived up Tuesday morning and will spend some time at the home of their son on Mullet Lake.

According to the state census the population of this County, with one town to hear from, is 11,781, so that it may be safely said that the population is 12,000, against 6,524 in 1880, a gain in four years of 5,476, or over 83 per cent.

Last week Wm. Spencer the popular landlord of the Spencer House, received official notice that a patent was allowed for his paper and twine holder, a full description of which was given in the TRIBUNE some time since.

Harry W. McArthur has leased the front suite of rooms second floor of First National bank building for a law office. He will have the finest office in Cheboygan. The rooms are large and airy, well lighted and are provided with a fire proof vault.

Hon. H. M. Leud was in Cheboygan looking after his interests in the Congressional race. Cheboygan county will undoubtedly send a delegation unpledged to the convention, and expect them, after a full survey of the ground, to vote for the man that is best calculated to meet the requirements of the hour.

The attendance at the meeting of the directors of the Agricultural society Saturday afternoon was so small that it was thought best to postpone the meeting two weeks. It is desired that not only the directors attend this adjourned meeting but that all interested in the success of the society should be present. We trust that there may be a good attendance Saturday, August 9th.

With the prospects of good crops throughout the country, the Democratic chances of success in the coming campaign are largely on the decrease. Their strongest hope is in adversity. We would ask the young men who are soon to cast their first vote if they desire to cast in their lot with a party whose only hope is in the misfortunes of their country?

A lighter loaded with lumber sunk alongside the schooner George Steele, Saturday night.

Francis Stead reports a stool of timothy on his farm that by actual count has 270 perfect heads.

The father of Rev. A. W. Westgate arrived in Cheboygan Thursday evening, for a visit of several weeks.

Cheboygan is well patronized by tourists at present, and numerous strange faces are met on the streets.

The audience present at the Democratic ratification last Friday night looked for more than they got.

The Mary was delayed Sunday morning on her up trip, by the river being blocked with a tow of logs for Duncan.

Supervising Inspector Cook of Detroit, spent Sunday in Cheboygan, the guest of mine host French, of the Grand Central hotel.

Judge Steere's mother arrived on the City of Mackinac Thursday afternoon, and they left Saturday morning for Sault Ste. Marie.

The St. Ignace Republican brings out Dr. John R. Bailey's name as a candidate to succeed Wm. A. Colwell in the State Legislature from that district.

Messrs Dodge and Cowan local inspectors of steamers arrived Saturday evening and remained Sunday and Monday inspecting different craft at this port.

Miss Maggie Murray, of Saginaw, arrived Saturday evening, and spent Sunday and Monday visiting her brothers, of the firm of Murray & Rieh, machinists.

The "mokes" from the dining room of the City of Mackinac had quite a contest at McArthur's dock last Thursday afternoon to see who was the best at a hop, step and jump.

Quite a number of vessels loading at this port had Blaine and Logan flags flying from their mast heads, but we have yet to see the first Cleveland and Hendricks streamer floating from any vessel.

Farmers say that grain crops look better, in this section, than for many years. They commence harvesting their fall wheat this week. So far as we have heard all report the standing grain free from rust.

W. H. Bunker has been awarded the contract to build a dock for the Michigan Central railroad at Topinabee station, Mullet Lake, and will commence the work as soon as the company get the timber on the ground.

Captain John McWilliams, of the tug Major Dana received a telegram Saturday stating that his father, residing at Lockport N. Y. was not expected to live. He left that evening for Lockport. He had not seen his father for seven years.

Miss Rose Murtaugh, at Mrs. McArthur's cut a gash an inch deep and two inches long, Monday morning, while cleaning a lamp the globe of which broke, the glass doing the damage. Dr. T. A. Perrin repaired damages as far as possible.

The First National bank received a burglar proof safe on the City of Mackinac, Monday morning. It was manufactured by the Detroit Safe Co., and though considerably smaller than the safe they have been using its weight is greater.

The new uniforms for lighthouse keepers have been received. Ives Littlefield of the Cheboygan Range Lights wants to wear out his old clothes before he dons his. The government assumes the cost of the first suits, but renewals will be at the expense of the keepers. Those entering the service hereafter will be required to furnish their own uniforms.

Our fellowtownsman W. S. Humphrey while in Buffalo last week interviewed several of the leading men of that City and says the general opinion expressed is that Stephen Grover Cleveland, the Democratic nominee for President, is guilty of all that the Buffalo Telegraph has charged him with, and that the editor of that paper is anxious to have him commence a libel suit.

Wm. Hess has taken a contract to build a new boiler for the tug Maud S. owned by W. S. Smith. It is to be of 36 inch Otis steel, 10 feet long, 5 feet in diameter. It is to sustain a cold water pressure of 180 pounds to the square inch, which will allow a steam pressure of 130 pounds. The price is $1,400 and the work to be completed by Sept. 15th, 1884. He expects to commence work on it this week.

Edward Adams and mother left Monday night for Montreal. Mrs. Adams is a sister of H. A. Blake.

D. R. Currey, of Bay City, is in town, and proposes to insure every man, woman and child. He represents the Maine Mutual.

The TRIBUNE office printed a new list of telephone subscribers, alphabetically arranged. Subscribers can secure them by calling at the Central office.

Reserved seats for Mrs. Belle Bigelow's entertainment Saturday evening are now on sale at Cooper's drug store. Reserved seats 35 cents, general admission 25 cents.

Long lake sustains its reputation for affording fine sport for fishers. Scarcely a day passes Sunday included, but one or more parties visit it and return well satisfied with the trip and and sport.

Sunday afternoon a young lad fell in to the river off of Smith & Baker's dock, falling between the Van Raalte and wharf. Alvin Horne jumped in and held him up until others came to the rescue and pulled the boy out.

That popular candidate for public favor, phenomenal as to its success as a newspaper, the Detroit Evening Journal, last week had an average circulation of 27,366. For less than a yearling it has reason to be proud of its success.

W. S. Humphrey and I. S. Cooper each selected four others of the members of the Gun Club participating in yesterday's contest, and are to shoot a match to-morrow afternoon to determine who was to blame for the defeat at Mackinac.

Mrs. Magoffin and daughter Carrie, left on the Van Raalte, Monday morning on their way to Marquette. Mrs. Magoffin will spend sometime there. Miss Carrie will remain with her mother about a week and then go to Elk Rapids to visit Mr. and Mrs. Noble.

The horse race, postponed from July 4th, for the silver trumpet purchased by the committee, will take place Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The run will be from Third to Division streets on Main. The Board of Water Commissioners will act as judges, and give rules to govern the contest.

William Purcell, editor of the Rochester, N. Y. Union and Advertiser, a Democratic paper, who resigned his control of that paper rather than support Cleveland, when asked for reasons said: "It is not on either personal or political grounds; it is because I believe him to be a moral leper."

Street Commissioner Hayden has put in a number of badly needed crosswalks recently. We would suggest that the authorities press the matter of having property owners repair the sidewalks adjacent to their premises. Some of them are in a dangerous condition, and not at all creditable to our town.

The second engineer of the Champlain upon the arrival of that steamer at this port Friday afternoon, received a telegram announcing the death of his brother at Manistee. His place was temporarily supplied here and he left that evening by rail for Manistee. The two brothers came from California some three or four weeks since, and the first intimation he had of his brother's illness was the telegram announcing his death.

Farmers from the Mullet Lake section claim to "take the cake" on crops in this county this season. Grain and vegetables, of all kinds never promised better. One gentleman, a farmer of experience in Canada, says they are the best crops he ever saw growing in Canada or Michigan. Some of the settlers are getting fine farms cleared up in that portion of the county and are working with an energy that will result in soon having as fine farms as can be found anywhere in the state.

Dr. Berdan, formerly of the Flint hospital, and Dr. Gerow, of Cheboygan, have purchased the DeCousine residence, on the east side, and will start a hospital on the same system that has proved so popular in other places. Parties can purchase tickets for $5.00, which guarantees them medical and surgical treatment for one year. The property purchased is the most eligible for the purpose in northern Michigan. The grounds are very attractive, and the building large and convenient. Dr. Gerow needs no introduction; he is one of our oldest and best known physicians and surgeons. Dr. Berdan is a graduate of two leading medical colleges, and of large experience in hospital treatment.
